THE CITY.

TO PRINTER.—We want a few more First-Class Compositors. To such as are fully competent, we will pay thirty cents per thousand. None others need apply.

Our Carriers desire us to state that they will be around with an address this morning. Have your change handy, as they cannot stop long.

The Weekly Press of this morning, by limitation of law at twelve o'clock, last night, and adjourned sine die.

The Board of Auditors finished their labors by limitation of law at twelve o'clock, last night, and adjourned sine die.

New Year's Noon.—Capt. George Benz has got plenty of it this morning. Before night it will be going father and thicker, and the men who carry it will feel good.

Statutes, go to Como today, if you wish to have a high old time. Capt. Newson has prepared a good novelty for the day. A horse trot will be one of the things.

Tar woods got on fire along the river below West St. Paul last evening, and a grand illumination for a short time was the consequence. Pretty business for the middle of winter.

Every boy and his wife are going to St. Anthony and Minneapolis to-night, to the balls, to be given in those towns—the one in St. Anthony at the Winslow House, and the one in Minneapolis at the Nicollet.

There was not quite so much skating on the river yesterday. A little too much wind to make it pleasant. During the moonlight evenings the soldiers from the Fort, state down and see their friends, and go back before roll-call next morning, and nobody knows nothing about it.

In answer to an appeal from the Post-Surgeon at St. Peter for deliveries for the sick, the Ladies Aid Society will send a box on Saturday next.

Donations of wines, jellies, ferries, eggs, corn starch, etc., are earnestly solicited.

Dr. Le Boutillier represents great suffering in the hospital for want of these necessities. Packages may be left at the Hope Engine House on Saturday from 10 o'clock a. m. to 1 p. m.

L. F. LEON, Secretary.

DISTRICT COURT.—The adjourned session of the District Court for the county of Ramsey, Judge Vanderhook presiding, terminated its labors yesterday. The only cases disposed of were the four cases in which Veta Gier was plaintiff of the former firm of Bartlett and Cazan. Judgment was rendered in each case for the plaintiff for the full amount claimed.

NEW CHANGE SCRIPT.—The engraved change scrip of the City of St. Paul having arrived, the old scrip, worn-out, filthy, and contrived, is to be withdrawn from circulation. The new scrip is printed on good paper, and is a credit to the city. Denominations of five cents have been issued, which will prove a great convenience.

THE HORSE CASE.—The ramifications and complications resulting from the separate claims to the team of horses brought here from Carson county, with a load of pork, on Tuesday, were further ventilated before Acting City Justice Dodge yesterday. Two more suits for assault and battery were prosecuted, and this time against a well known citizen, who was fined five dollars in each case. In regard to the horses, each party is in possession of one, and has taken out replevin papers to secure the other, but they have each secreted the horse in possession, so that no service can be obtained. How the matter will eventuate is more than we can tell.

THE WEEK OF PRAYER.—The fourth annual week of prayer will be observed by the churches of this city, commencing Monday evening, the 5th of January. The churches will unite in its observance, holding a union meeting each evening of the week in some of their houses of worship.

The following programme is suggested by request of a number of the pastors. Should it not meet the views of all, it is hoped it may be so changed as to prove satisfactory.

The first meeting will be held on Monday evening, in the Jackson street Methodist Episcopal church, and presided over by Rev. E. Eggleston, pastor of that church.

On Tuesday evening, in the Plymouth church, and presided over by Rev. S. Hawley, pastor.

On Wednesday evening in the Central Presbyterian church, presided over by Rev. J. D. Pope.

On Thursday evening in the House of Hope, and presided over by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Noble.

On Friday evening in the First Presbyterian church, and conducted by Rev. John Mattocks, pastor.

On Saturday evening in the Market street Methodist Episcopal church, and conducted by Rev. J. O. Rich, pastor.

The subjects of prayer will be announced from day to day.

TASISTO'S RENDERING OF HANDEL.—Mr. Tasisto was again last night welcomed by a respectable and delighted audience. It could not be expected that one person would play the tragedy of Handel, in which are about a dozen lead-

PERSONAL.—Friend Sinclair, of the Winona Republican, was one of the passengers by the stage last evening. He stops at the International.

WARM.—Soft, mild, foggy and muddy—that is kind of a day it was yesterday, the second of January, 1863.

CHURCH BUILDING FESTIVAL AT MINNEAPOLIS.—The Congressional Society of Minneapolis will give a festival at Harrison's Hall, Tuesday, January 13th, to raise funds to aid in building the Church. Arrangements hereafter.

MINNESOTA ARRIVES.—Since our last notice, Hon. C. A. Warner, member-elect of the Senate from Carver county, and Hon. O. T. Hayes, member-elect to the House from Dakota county, have arrived and taken rooms at the International.

Hon. R. B. McGrath, member-elect to the House from Hennepin county, arrived yesterday, and is at the Merchants.

I. O. O. F.—On Tuesday evening, Jan. 6, 1863, Saint Paul Lodge No. 2 will hold a festival, in connection with the installation of Officers. A large number will be present to them by the daughters of Rebekah, and a supper will be served in the hall. Only moderate good standing, and their wives, are to be admitted.

NEW YEAR'S DAY AT COME.—The day was soft and warm, and many were present at Mr. Newman's Park, but in consequence of illness, Mr. Whitney was unable to take a photograph, as previously announced.

An ice-boat, invented by Mr. Corlies, engineer, of this city, made several trips across the Lake, but the ice was too soft to render it entirely successful.

—There will be a meeting of the St. Anthony Falls Horticultural Society at the office of H. T. Wells, in Minneapolis, on Monday, Jan. 13th, at 3 o'clock p. m., to elect delegates to attend the State Agricultural Convention and transact any other business thought proper when met.

PER ORDER.—JAMES BEAS, Corresponding Secretary.

POLICE COURT.—Business before the bench of the city government commences brisk with the New Year. There were six cases of petty offences tried and disposed of yesterday by Acting City Justice Dodge.

James Brown was fined two dollars for not being a soldier man and good citizen on New Year's Day, which he paid.

Joseph Butler contributed five dollars to the city treasury, as a compensation for a large amount of fine he had on New Year's.

Thomas Hoar made a forced loan of a coat. He was required to return it, and pay the city the sum of ten dollars for the exercise of such a sovereign privilege.

William Turner, colored, assaulted a colored girl, and the city is ahead just five dollars in consequence.

FROM THE FAR NORTH.—Joseph LeMay, Esq., collector of the District of Minnesota, arrived in this city on Thursday evening from Pennington. He confirms the news recently received of the assembling of a large body of Sioux at Devil's Lake, said to number two thousand, who declare their intention to make war on the settlements early in the spring. Mr. LeMay thinks that St. Joseph in Dakota, and Pennington will be destroyed. He was obliged to move his family down to the Siskiwit Settlement for protection.

TASSITRO'S MERCHANT OF VENICE.—Ingorsoll's Hall was filled last night with one of the largest and most intelligent audiences ever saw assembled in this city. The performance of Mr. Tassitro was a complete success. His remarkable powers as a dramatic performer were fully exhibited than upon the preceding evening.

Most star actors test their fame upon the acting of a few plays. They have a talent to conceive certain kind of character, and can delineate them with astonishing effect. They perform but one part—into that are thrown all the fires of their soul, and it glows with the effluence of their genius.

Mr. Tassitro is not confined to a few characters. Booth, Forrest and Munnick are great to two or three; Tassitro goes in two or three dozen. While his general conceptions are accurate and his delineations effective, his forte lies rather in versatility than in power. In that he stands unrivaled. He performs all parts and passes from one to another without apparent effort and at the same time preserves great truth in the distinctive features of each. His Shylock was highly appreciated and executed. His sorcerer, his detestable hate and for revenge, were brought out with fine effect. The trial scene was particularly beautiful, and greeted with frequent bursts of enthusiastic applause.

Our citizens will long recollect these entertainments as bright streams of sunlight in the midst of the almost universal gloom which overshadows our country.

THE PIRATE ALABAMA.

CAPTURE OF THE STEAMER ARIEL.

Statement of M. E. Wheeler, Purser of the Ariel.

From the N. Y. Tribune, 26th.

The Ariel was captured on her outward passage by the rebel steamer Alabama, and the following circumstances: On the 17th inst., at 10 a. m., when rounding Cape Mays, the eastern point of Cuba, a dark, jagged, and under canvas. As there was nothing in her appearance indicating her to be a steamer her smokestack, which was passing over the horizon, she was hailed by the Ariel. She was a small, dark, and under canvas. As there was nothing in her appearance indicating her to be a steamer her smokestack, which was passing over the horizon, she was hailed by the Ariel.

She then sailed across our water, took a position on our port quarter, about 100 yards distant, and fired two guns. She then sailed across our water, took a position on our port quarter, about 100 yards distant, and fired two guns.

Aboard of the United States steamer, consisting of 125 men, passengers on board the Ariel, had been driven up and around the officers in command, and the crew, who were then firing at the Ariel. The Ariel was then fired at by the United States steamer, and the crew, who were then firing at the Ariel.

A boat then put off to us, and the boarding officer, on coming aboard, at once assured the passengers that none should be molested, and that all baggage and property should be respected. He then demanded the keys to the spoke-locker, together with the ship's papers and letters, and informed the Captain that he must be so ready to go on board the Alabama with him, where he was detained as a hostage until the next day.

The money in the ship, amounting to $20,000, was taken on board, and the prize crew, twenty in number, all well armed, on board. The engine-room was taken in charge by two engineers from the Alabama. The officers and marines on board the Ariel were paroled, and their arms taken, as well as some belonging to the ship.

Both vessels were then headed for that place, and on the 18th inst., at 10 p. m., we arrived off Point Morant, about forty miles from Kingston. Near this point the Alabama gave chase, and a vessel, from which some information was received, which induced Capt. Semmes to change his mind, and take heavy guns on board the Ariel, and prevent our escape should they give chase to any vessel, as they were expecting to capture the Challenger, and had been lying in wait several days at this point for that purpose. The same night our vessel was changed, and the intention of landing us at St. Domingo changed to Kingston, Jamaica.

Both vessels were then headed for that place, and on the 18th inst., at 10 p. m., we arrived off Point Morant, about forty miles from Kingston. Near this point the Alabama gave chase, and a vessel, from which some information was received, which induced Capt. Semmes to change his mind, and take heavy guns on board the Ariel, and prevent our escape should they give chase to any vessel, as they were expecting to capture the Challenger, and had been lying in wait several days at this point for that purpose.

The capture of the officers and crew of the Alabama in charge of this ship was extremely courteous. They were in regular communication with the United States both by letters and papers, and the content of our day of sailing, and that no emisers were in these waters to intercept them. For this reason, the specie to come by the Ariel was left at Aspinwall, as Capt. Jones did not think it prudent to bring it.

When the ship was boarded the excitement among the passengers was intense. Some of them sought refuge in the cabin, and others sought refuge in the cabin, and others sought refuge in the cabin.

side, having arrangements for transfering two of the broadside guns from side to side with great rapidity. Capt. Jones further says that the Alabama has a fine crew, and that they are well disciplined, and that the ship is in fine order, and that the deck is arranged for two additional pivot guns, which he was informed were 100-pounder rifles, and in the Alabama's hold, ready to be mounted should they be required. Captain Jones says that the rebel captain treated him remarkably well. He was not confined, but the privilege of the deck, and napped in the wardroom.

Capt. Jones says the only ship that made many inquiries regarding her speed and armament, but obtained no information whatever. He laughs at all the other ships we have, and remarked that "he cared nothing for the San Jacinto; that he went to sea by her when in Martinique, and paid no attention to her. What he cannot help her run away from him."

It is the opinion of Capt. Jones that Semmes will be sent to Aspinwall, or off that harbor, to intercept the California steamers both ways. He has the impression that he would like to know the impossibility of his having the other way with treasure had passed him before she was allowed to proceed.

Capt. Semmes, in his conversation with Capt. Jones, talked a good deal about the Pacific Ocean, and knew all about our ships of war there. The thing that surprised him most was the impossibility of his having the other way with treasure had passed him before she was allowed to proceed.

Capture of Papers Belonging to Ex-Lieut. M. E. Maury.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Recently a number of papers belonging to Ex-Commander M. E. Maury, late of the United States Navy, were found at Fredericksburg, Va., at the house of Dr. Hendon.

One of them, dated April, 1862, is addressed to "My excellent friend, the Grand Admiral of Russia," a copy of which was sent to the functionary.

"The rebellion, as they (the loyal citizens) term it," he says, "they would have the statesman of Europe believe with high credence. At first they said it was a small affair that could be put down in a few weeks—then in sixty, then in ninety days."

Capt. Semmes, in his conversation with Capt. Jones, talked a good deal about the Pacific Ocean, and knew all about our ships of war there. The thing that surprised him most was the impossibility of his having the other way with treasure had passed him before she was allowed to proceed.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

ST. PAUL, SUNDAY, JANUARY 4.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Our telegraphic news this morning is of the gravest and most important character.

We refer especially to the details of the terrible battle at Murfreesboro, reported in our special dispatches, which at last arrives as still raging, and undecided.

In our associated Press dispatches, will be found General Grant's report of General Sullivan's victory over Forrest and Van Dorn, and also an account of a severe battle in progress before Vicksburg under the direction of General Sherman.

THE MINISTERS TO BE OPENED.

The mail brings news confirmatory of an important special dispatch to the Press a few days ago.

A tremendous naval armament, and a very large land force have been sent up by Banks from New Orleans to operate against Vicksburg. The land force is said to consist of 40,000 men and to be under the command of Major General A. S. Johnston. The seizure of Fort Hudson by Farragut is preliminary to the great battle which is to come off in a few days at Vicksburg.

Two means that will be brought to bear in the reduction of this stronghold are believed to be amply sufficient to effect this object without delay and thus open the Mississippi river to the commerce of the west.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

The proclamation of the President declares the issues of the war, a war of slavery against the Constitution and life of the nation.

"If slavery is to be preserved," said General Banks, at New Orleans, "the war must cease." The prosecution of the war by the rebels, secures the destruction of slavery in the insurgent district within a few months. The decree of emancipation will be in a measure self-executing. The slaves being legally free, and assured of protection in our lines, are encouraged to assert their freedom, and the Military and Naval authorities may do so as to deprive their rights. The Executive Government of the United States is pledged to recognize and maintain them.

Therefore the Army and Navy of the United States have been required to recognize and maintain the rights of slaveholders, thus contributing to the resources and strength of the rebellion.

The war is not yet ended, nor the rebellion crushed; but it is manifest that the head and front of treason have received a blow from which it will never recover. It may be that Mr. Lincoln, in this great military act, has ended where he should have commenced; but in a measure of such vast importance, it was necessary to have the earnest support of the nation. Of the proper means to be used in this great crisis, and of the day and hour when the stroke shall fall, Mr. Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, is the sole constituted and responsible judge.

THE SOLDIER'S VOTES.

The Legislature of Connecticut at the extra session just adjourned, passed a bill for taking the votes of the soldiers of the State at the election in April next. To this measure the Democratic members made a strenuous opposition, and refused to assent to all sorts of subterfuges to defeat it. Their favorite hobby was the unconstitutionality of the act, and for the purpose of making it unconstitutional beyond a doubt, they attempted to tack on it a proviso that it should take effect only on a contingency, well knowing that such a proviso made the law void. They were defeated, and then they showed their real sentiments, by voting in a body against the bill.

This whole course proves what we have so often asserted in the columns of the Press, and what Democratic leaders have so persistently denied, that the Democratic party do not mean to permit the soldiers to vote, for the simple reason that they are five to one in favor of freedom and the restoration of the Union by crushing out the rebellion.

The friends of Speaker Grow are employing themselves during the holidays in an effort to obtain his appointment to the office of Secretary of the Interior, which is still vacant. Secretary Usher having charge of the affairs of the office. In the event of their succeeding, Schuyler Colfax is to be urged for the vacant Speakership.

The New York Tribune estimates that New York city, alone, will yield $12,000,000 per annum, under the internal revenue law.

The friends of the Illinois and Michigan Canal bill believe the measure will secure the vote of a large majority of the New England members. The Massachusetts and Connecticut delegations are believed to be nearly unanimous for it.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

We are glad to notice among the list of arrivals last evening, the name of Hon. C. D. Sherwood, whose name has been before suggested by the Press, in connection with the important office of Speaker of the House of Representatives. As the contest for the Speakership is nearly the only obstacle to a prompt organization of the Legislature, and has on previous occasions engendered personal coolness not favorable to the harmonious working of the party, we violate for once, in the interest of this much needed harmony, the rule of neutrality, we have imposed upon ourselves as between rival candidates for office.

It has, we believe, served twice before in the representative body of the Legislature, where he won a high reputation for ability as a debater and tactician. From the active and leading part which he then took in the exciting questions which occupied the attention of the Legislature, he acquired a thorough knowledge of parliamentary practice, and is one of the few members in the present body whose experience would fit them for the delicate duties of the Speaker's chair. While cordially conceding the qualifications of other able and influential gentlemen, we think that the nomination of Mr. Sherwood ought to be cordially concurred in by all Republicans as a measure of what may be called geographical justice—a principle, which, to a great extent, controls the distribution of office.

It is not, we are happy to say, as difficult in this case as it is in some others to adjust the conflicting claims of locality. The Northern and Central counties have frequently been represented in the Speakership, the popular Southwestern counties never, if our memory serves us, since the organization of the Territory. This consideration, joined to the eminent fitness of Mr. Sherwood for the position, constitutes a claim sufficiently strong, we think, to reconcile all diverse interests in the choice of this gentleman.

We write this in ignorance whether Mr. Sherwood has any rivals for the position; or even whether he is a candidate for it himself, but we learn incidentally, and commend it as an example worthy of imitation, that the Hon. Mr. Thatcher, a gentleman of the highest qualifications for the position, with a view to relieve the question from the complications arising from the warm support which his claims would have received if installed on, has withdrawn his name in advance from the controversy. We trust that this magnanimous spirit exhibited by a leading member may control the future counsels of the party in the exciting and important questions which are to come before it.

Alliance of Napoleon and Jeff. Davis.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Herald, writing on the 24, makes the following statements, starting if true: "Napoleon has fully made up his mind to recognize the South as a nation; and what is more important, he has made up his mind to lend them armed force. He has sent more troops to the American continent than were necessary to conquer Mexico, but no more than will be needed for the furtherance of his present programme—that is, the establishment of the Davis Government and the occupation of Mexico and the isthmus. France is making all that portion of country south of the Confederacy her colony; and I hear from good and reliable sources that she will make treaties with the Emperor or Napoleon that in case the Davis Government is established it will guarantee to France, as a perpetual possession, the countries above mentioned; while France, as a quid pro quo, promises to lend her aid to the Davis government for their conquest of all the West India Islands, France, by treaty, to guarantee their perpetual possession. In fact it all amounts to an offensive and defensive alliance between France and Davis. These facts account for the late measures taken by Napoleon's government in favor of the South, and also account for the singularly offensive tone towards the United States government now assumed by the Moniteur, the official organ of the French government.

"The Davis government, blinded by ambition, will eagerly promise all that Napoleon asks; for he guarantees them what their country shall extend to the Pacific coast, while he will only take the territories south of their line. He will build railroads and cut canals, and will develop the immense resources of the great tract of country he already looks upon as his own. These are bright dreams; and both the secessionists here and the adherents of Napoleon's policy are in great glee over the future."

FROM NASHVILLE.

A terrific battle has been fought, and is perhaps still raging, on Stone River, in front of Murfreesboro, or the west side of that place. It had raged with unmitigated fury for two days, and at last, amidst the fighting was still continued, without any decisive result. It is described as one of the most ferocious battles of modern times, and was sustained on both sides with splendid determination.

Rosecrans marched from Nashville last Friday with forty-five thousand effective troops, and one hundred pieces of artillery. Skirmishing occurred all the way to the battle field—the enemy strenuously and bitterly contesting every step of our advance. But Rosecrans steadily and successfully pushed on, driving the enemy from his positions on the road, till he strongly posted on a bend of Stone River on the west bank—his tanks resting on the Murfreesboro road—on the west side of the city. The enemy's center had the advantage of a position on high ground, masked by a dense growth of cedar, thus giving them the decided advantage of a cross-fire.

Gen. McCook's corps occupied a position on the left, while Gen. Negley's division worked with great difficulty, to a position in front of the center of the rebel line of battle. Gen. Rosecrans held the Federal reserve in front of woods. Gen. Crittenden's corps was posted on high ground, and the divisions of Gen. Palmer and Van Cleve formed the left of the Federal line.

A battle was confidently expected by the Federal officers all day Tuesday, but they were disappointed. The enemy merely skirmished, amusing themselves by throwing a few shells into the Federal lines.

On Tuesday evening Col. Anderson's Pennsylvania cavalry, on Gen. McCook's flank, was drawn into an ambuscade and two Majors killed.

Crittenden's corps on Tuesday lost four killed and twenty-one wounded. In McCook's corps the loss was about 150.

On Tuesday night, after dark, the enemy was reported moving on McCook's command, their intention obviously being to make a fierce attack on the right wing.

Gen. Rosecrans immediately instructed General McCook to hold the enemy in check, which was stubbornly and gallantly obeyed, while the left wing was thrown into Murfreesboro behind the enemy's position.

At day break on Wednesday, the last day of the old year, the battle commenced. At its opening, everything appeared to be working well. The battle was opened by our right wing. At seven o'clock, ominous sounds indicated that the firing was approaching towards our left.

Gen. Rosecrans despatched aids to the scene of the firing. They reported that the woods were full of dying men, and some stragglers, who reported that whole regiments of our troops were falling back rapidly.

Gen. Johnson had permitted the batteries of his division to be captured by an attack of the enemy, and that the achievements of the rebels had somewhat demoralized our troops.

The brave General Hill was killed while gallantly cheering on his men. General Kirk was severely wounded. General Willich, who has distinguished himself in other fields, is missing, and is supposed to have been killed or taken prisoner. In addition to the loss of these brave men, other valuable officers are missing.

The battle raged furiously all day, and when it closed, the enemy occupied the ground we held in the morning.

General Rosecrans unnecessarily exposed himself to the enemy's fire, and his escape seems miraculous. His chief of staff, the noble and gallant Lieut. Col. Garcsche had his head taken off by a round shot. General Rosecrans was splattered over with the blood of this brave man.

Several of Gen. Rosecrans' staff, three soldiers, and the gallant Sergeant Richmond of the 4th United States regular cavalry, were killed, while in position not ten feet from where Gen. R. stood.

At dark the enemy had massed a heavy force on our right, leading to the belief that they intended to pursue their advantage.

Their cavalry in the meantime, was exceedingly troublesome, cutting deeply into our trains, in the rear. Unfortunately we had not cavalry enough to protect ourselves.

Gen. Rosecrans determined to renew the attack. This morning at daylight he opened fire on our left on the rebels. The enemy would not retire from our right, and the battle worked that way.

At 11 o'clock matters were not flattering to the rebels. At 12 o'clock our artillery received new supplies of ammunition, and a terrible fire was opened on the enemy's lines. The rebels now began to give way.

The battle was more severe at this hour than it had been, and the result was still undetermined in doubt. Both sides maintained their positions with great nerve and steadiness, and with terrible determination.

Gen. Rosecrans deeply feels the importance of the battle. If he is defeated, it will be badly, because he will fight as long as he has a brigade. If he is victorious the enemy will be annihilated.

The enemy seemed to be fully as numerous as the Federals. They did not use much artillery. Gen. Joseph E. Johnston and Braxton Bragg were in command of the rebel army. The prisoners taken state that the loss of the enemy has been very heavy.

Later, at 11:15 A. M.—There are no later tidings of today's battle.

The enemy are driving in our wagon trains on the Murfreesboro pike, to-night. The following additional casualties are reported:

Among the wounded is Brigadier Gen. Van Cleve, of Minnesota, who was in command of a division in Thomas' corps.

FROM THE RAPPAHANNOCK.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, JANUARY 3, 1863.

A reconnaissance force which went out yesterday morning, will be heard from in a few days.

A considerable portion of Lee's army is believed to have moved from their late position in our front and gone up the Rappahannock. Their destination is unknown.

The President has telegraphed to Gen. Butler to come on to Washington. Butler will be set to work to enforce the Proclamation of Freedom in the slave States. It is believed his energy and go-aheadness eminently qualify him for this responsible mission.

Decision of the Supreme Court.

A complaint alleging that the plaintiff, at a time specified, owned and had in possession certain personal property described of a special nature; that the same was seized and taken by the defendants under a warrant of attachment by defendants, directing a levy upon the property of plaintiff not exempt from execution, state a good cause of action.

In such circumstances it is not necessary to allege a demand and refusal to constitute a cause of action. The case of Tullis vs. Orthwein, 2d Minnesota, 257, examined and commented on.

Where the complaint, further states the defendant seized the property under the warrant, knowing it to be exempt, that fact, if proved, may be considered by the jury in aggravation of damages.

Where irrelevant testimony is objected to and admitted, it will be sufficient ground to set aside a verdict unless it appears or may possibly be shown that the evidence had prejudiced the complaining party.

When the question of value is material, a declaration that the property was of no value, or the value as the party claims it to be.

When the Court rules out a proper question, but the witness subsequently testified to the same facts sought to be elicited by the question, and the evidence actually goes to the jury without objection, the erroneous ruling cannot avail as a ground for setting aside the verdict. The time at which a party shall be allowed to introduce evidence is within the discretion of the Court, and cannot be interfered with by this Court, except upon the ground of an abuse of discretion.

The Court charged the jury that if the property was exempt from execution and sale upon the process, it was exempt from attachment. Held, that the instruction was correct. Where a demand of exempt property is set on process is necessary in order to enable the plaintiff to recover, it need not necessarily be made at the time the property is attached, but should be made within a reasonable time, which must depend upon the circumstances of each particular case.

The Court charged that the taking of exempt property on attachment was wrongful. If the plaintiff had not tacitly or otherwise waived his right to exemption. Held, that there was no error in such charge.

A reconnaissance in force was also made yesterday from Columbus.

FROM LOUISVILLE.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

Morgan has again used a shell on our commandaries by the use of the telegraph. After getting all information necessary he sent Gen. Boyle a message, calling him a bright youth and smart boy.

FROM MILWAUKEE.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

The barracks of the 37th Wisconsin Regiment were burned last night. Two lives were lost. The troops are taken to Camp Washburne.

FROM CHICAGO.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

The Tribune contains the resolutions of the board of trade at Chicago, excluding the display Times from their reading rooms. One of them read as follows:

Resolved by the board of trade that while disclaiming all partisan feeling and being actuated by no other motive than the public welfare and the fair fame of our city, that the Chicago Times is unworthy of continuance or support and that the directors are hereby requested to exclude it from the reading room of this board. Resolutions were adopted almost unanimously. The Journal intimates that the Rail Roads are talking of the same kind of treatment. This would be the unkindest cut of all.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

A Cabinet session was held to-day over the New Year's edit of freedom, which was carefully considered, and after adjournment Mr. Lincoln went to work on the document during all visitors. The districts in Tennessee and Louisiana represented in Congress will be exempt.

The Washington dispatches saying that Secretary Chase has agreed to a bill, one of the provisions of which authorizes the issue of $200,000,000 of legal tender treasury notes, or that the House Committee on Ways and Means is determined to report in favor of repealing the law requiring duties on imports to be paid in gold, are erroneous.

But a week ago Gen. Sigel begged for permission to take and hold Warrenton, to prevent just such a raid as the last one made by Stuart's Cavalry. It was denied here by the military authorities.

Gen. Burnside's testimony in the court martial on Fitz John Porter's case, casts no black shadow upon Porter. On the contrary, Gen. Burnside compliments him for superior military foresight in some instances. He stated his belief that Gen. Porter had done his whole duty.

Second Dispatch.

The rebel Gen. Stuart's Cavalry were seen near Snyder's Gap to-day, returning from their late northern excursion.

The bill admitting West Virginia, into the Union, as a sovereign State, will be signed by the President, rumors of an Executive veto to the contrary notwithstanding. It is understood that both Blair and Bates, the supposed dissenting members of the Cabinet to the bill, are now convinced of its constitutionality and expediency.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.

The President has telegraphed to Gen. Butler to come on to Washington. Butler will be set to work to enforce the Proclamation of Freedom in the slave States. It is believed his energy and go-aheadness eminently qualify him for this responsible mission.

Decision of the Supreme Court.

A complaint alleging that the plaintiff, at a time specified, owned and had in possession certain personal property described of a special nature; that the same was seized and taken by the defendants under a warrant of attachment by defendants, directing a levy upon the property of plaintiff not exempt from execution, state a good cause of action.

In such circumstances it is not necessary to allege a demand and refusal to constitute a cause of action. The case of Tullis vs. Orthwein, 2d Minnesota, 257, examined and commented on.

Where the complaint, further states the defendant seized the property under the warrant, knowing it to be exempt, that fact, if proved, may be considered by the jury in aggravation of damages.

Gen. Sherman's Dispatches.

A Terrific Conflict of Five Hours.

ENEMY DRIVEN FROM THEIR ENTRENCHMENTS.

The Battle Renewed.

Steele turns the Enemy's Right.

CLARRO, Jan. 4.

Dispatches from Gen. Sherman, on the battle field of Vicksburg, were received at Helena on Saturday, the 27th. The shipping departed for the scene left Yazoo river, Tennessee, ten miles above the mouth, forming a line, advanced towards Vicksburg. After passing beyond the guns they engaged the enemy in force. The enemy was driven back beyond two bayous in the rear of Vicksburg and from their entrenched works on the hill.

Saturday night the two armies lay on their arms with two bayous intervening. During the night pontoons were constructed, notwithstanding the terrific fire from the enemy under cover of un dergrowth. At daylight on Sunday the advance was made by Sherman's whole force. Steele held the left and Morgan and Blair the center. Steele turned the enemy's right so as to communicate with Morgan's division, it having been separated by swamps running at right angles, and kept up on both sides.

It is reported that Col. Dickey's cavalry utterly destroyed the Mobile and Ohio railroad, from Okma to Salina, 27 miles. This was done before the rebels came to Holly Springs. Grant's forces also destroyed the road from Coffeeville to Oxford. It is stated that the telegraph is working to Holly Springs and Corinth.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Jan. 2.

To Major General Halleck: Gen. Sullivan succeeded in getting a fight out of Col. Forrest, and whipped him badly, capturing six pieces of artillery and a great many horses and prisoners.

Van Dorn was repulsed at every point, but with heavy loss.

U. S. GRANT.

Heavy Defalcation.

Major Isaac Nickles, Paymaster, was arrested for defalcation of half a million dollars; that most of the money was lost gambling. Simultaneous arrests of gamblers have been made in Cincinnati, Chicago, Louisville and other places. About $70,000 was recovered at Cairo.

The Colorado Mines.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.

Reports from the Colorado mines continue favorable. In southern counties—mills having been erected—silver mines are developed. One has been discovered 50 miles above Fort Mojave, only six miles from river navigation.

Eleven mills have been sent to State Range silver mines, southeast from Los Angeles.

Many believe that the mines on the southeastern border of the State will equal Washoe.

Buffalo, Jan. 2.

Guns were fired here in honor of the emancipation proclamation. Also at Pittsburgh, Albany, and other cities.

Movements of the New Iron-Clads.

All five of the nine iron-clads of the Monitor pattern are now completed, and will be ready for active operations by the close of the present week. The Monitor, Passaic, and Montauk are now doing duty somewhere along the coast; the Weehawken, Patuxent, and Nahant have had their trial trips, and the Catskill is nearly ready to have hers. The Lehigh and Nanuet, which complete the list, are not yet finished. Including the Ironsides and the Galena, the Navy Department have now nine iron-clad vessels, armed with the most tremendous guns known to modern warfare, at its disposal. It is not possible that this formidable fleet will long be kept idle. Charleston, Savannah, and Mobile are yet to be taken, and each of these cities promises to be the scene of a desperate and unparalleled naval conflict. We can form some idea of a fight between iron-clads by the Merrimack and Monitor encounter, but the value of iron-clads and 15-inch guns against stone forts is still a matter of experiment. But not only will the southern harbors be defended by forts, but by iron-clad vessels and floating batteries, some of which will undoubtedly be very formidable. The taking of these harbors will not, we apprehend, be so easy a task as some sanguine people have supposed. But there is little doubt of the final result. —N. Y. Times, 29th.

To the Hon., the President and Common Council:

The case of Bridget C. Daly vs. the city of St.

Paul, argued in the Supreme Court at the last term, upon demurrer to the complaint, has been decided against the city, and the case remanded to the District Court with leave to the answer.

The action is brought to recover damages caused by the city's failure to remove a large pile of lumber by act of 1881 and 1882, to open Fort Street.

There is an important one to the city, both as it respects the amount in controversy, and the rights and liabilities of the city as defendant by the said Supreme Court. Other actions have also been commenced by parties to whom like damages were awarded, and from information that the whole amount of damages awarded by said Court is in the neighborhood of $80,000.

Respectfully,
S. M. FINST,

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

ST. PAUL, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The victory at Murfreesboro proves to have been a decisive one, though at a fearful loss of life.

The rebels Rains, Hanson and Hardee are reported killed—Clanton, Adams, Breckenridge and other distinguished officers wounded.

Our heavy loss will fill the land with mourning. Gen. Sill's body is in possession of the rebels. Adjutant Boynton, killed, is a son of Rev. Dr. Boynton of Cincinnati. Colonel Charles Anderson, wounded, is a brother of General Robert Anderson of Fort Sumter fame.

General Stanley is in pursuit of the rebel rear guard, the main body having fallen back to Tallahoma.

A dispatch to the President from Nashville states that the bridges in East Tennessee have been burned, and that Clarksville has been recaptured by Col. Bragg.

There is no longer any reason to doubt the success of our assault upon Vicksburg. Gen. Sherman having received reinforcements from both Banks and Grant.

The Congressional proceedings will attract attention.

We have by the City of Washington late and interesting news from Europe. A private letter received in New York forebodes a change of policy on the part of the French Empire.

FROM CAIRO.

THE VICKSBURG BATTLE.

Col. Wyman Killed.

Particulars of the Victory at Parker's Cross Roads.

The Enemy are Totally Defeated.

A Supply Train Attacked.

FURTHER FROM GEN. FORREST.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

Cairo, January 5. In the late assault upon Vicksburg, Col. Wyman's 8th Illinois was badly cut up and Col. Wyman killed. His body is now on the way to Chicago.

There is every reason to believe that Vicksburg has fallen.

It is believed that forces from both Banks' and Grant's armies participated in the fight.

The attack on the rebel Gen. Forrest at Parker's Cross Roads, was first made by Col. Danham, commanding the 2d Indiana, 3d and 22d Illinois, and 7th Tennessee. The fight commenced at 9 o'clock A. M., and was hotly contested for three hours, when Forrest having surrounded Col. Danham, demanded his surrender: but Danham could not see it in that light.

Just as their ammunition was exhausted, and there seemed to be no alteration but surrender or be cut to pieces. Sullivan and Hayne appeared amidst the shouts of our beleaguered, but still unyielding soldiers. They came upon Forrest like an avalanche, sweeping everything before them. We captured their cannon, caissons, and everything. The rebels fled in all directions. Their skulldie is represented as a most extraordinary spectacle.

Our loss does not exceed 100, while that of the rebels, including prisoners, is over 1000.

Forrest's Adjutant General Strange was captured. It is said that Forrest himself was taken, but being dressed so shabbily, he was taken for an officer of an inferior grade, and allowed to escape.

Over twenty officers were captured.

The Jackson report says the wife of Gen. Grant was captured at Holly Springs, but was released by Van Horn.

A supply train was attacked by Holly Springs, but was released by Van Horn.

The soldiers had been permitted to vote, as those belonging to Iowa and Minnesota did, the Republican majority would have exceeded 400,000.

FROM NASHVILLE.

Reported Death of General Bragg.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 5. It was reported here to-day that Gen. Bragg is among the number of slain in the Murfreesboro fight.

The rebels shot, without ceremony, all contrabands captured on our wagon trains.

Major Slemmer and Captain King were captured by the rebels, taken four miles, and thrown out on the roadside.

Our loss in officers is truly heart-rending.

FROM SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

A WESTERN REPUBLIC.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 5. A Democratic meeting was held in this city this evening. One of the speakers advocated a western republic, and the hanging of all the abolitionists. If they were all summoned down, he did not know which were the greatest traitors, those at Washington, or those at Richmond.

An Indian Murder in Wisconsin.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

Special Dispatch to the St. Paul Press.

APPLETON, Wis., Jan. 6. A riot is now in progress in this place. Last Sunday night a German, named Smith, of Greenfield, near Appleton, was murdered by an Indian, who was drunk at the time of the commission of the deed.

The Indian was arrested, and confined in jail. Yesterday, a mob collected with the avowed determination of breaking open the jail and executing summary punishment on the Indian by hanging him.

Several of our prominent citizens have been injured in attempting to assist the officers from keeping the mob out of the jail. It is feared that the mob will succeed unless assistance is received from neighboring towns.

The Battle of Murfreesboro.

Dispatch of Rosecrans to Halleck.

THE VICTORY COMPLETE.

The Enemy in Flight to Tallahoma.

Gen. Stanley Pursuing the Rebel Rear Guard.

CASUALTIES OF THE BATTLE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.

The following dispatch has been received at Headquarters:

DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND, January 5th, 1863.

To Major General Halleck:

We have fought one of the greatest battles of the war, and a victorious one. Our entire success on the 31st, was prevented by a surprise of the right flank; but we have nevertheless beaten the enemy. After a three day's fight, they fled with great precipitation on Saturday night. The last of their column of cavalry left this morning.

Their loss has been very heavy. General Rains and Hanson were killed, and Generals Clanton, Adams, and Breckenridge are wounded.

(Signed.) W. S. ROSECRANS, Major General Commanding.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. The Times has the following dispatch from Nashville, 4th. From persons arriving from the battle field, I learn that on Saturday night during a storm, the rebels attacked our men in their rifle pits along the whole line. There was heavy firing in the center.

We drove the enemy across Stone river. The 7th Pennsylvania crossed the point. On Sunday morning Stanley's brigade entered Murfreesboro.

The town is injured by shells. General Sill's body was at the Court House.

The rebels buried their own dead, and our officers.

There has been a great loss of Confederate life. We lost about 9,500 killed and wounded, and about 5,000 prisoners. The enemy retreated to Tallahoma.

Our forces are terribly scattered. Out of 136,000 engaged, we lost 19 killed.

(Special to Tribune.)—Battlefield of Stone River, Jan. 3d.—The Murfreesboro Herald of yesterday admits a loss of 5,000 in Wednesday's battle. They have lost at least 2,900 since. Prisoners state that Gen. Hardee and Hanson were killed. The following additional names of Union officers killed and wounded are given.

Killed.—Col. Fred C. Jones, 14th Ohio, while gallantly leading his regiment into action. Lieut. Tallafiero of 10th Ohio battery. Adjutant Boynton 69th Ohio. Capt. Chas. Anderson 35th Ohio. Both of these officers were wounded quite severely. After their wounds were dressed they returned to the field. Col. J. F. Miller commanding the 7th brigade returned to duty after his wounds were dressed. Lieut. Col. Hall, 12th Mich. Ellis, of the 4th Indiana, severely wounded. Capt. C. C. Welch 12 Michigan, severely. Lieut. A. G. Russell 12th Mich. Lieut. Mark Walker 10th Ia., severely.

BATTLE FIELD, STONE RIVER, Jan. 3. On Saturday it rained and all warfare until night, when the 3d Ohio and 88th Indiana charged and carried the rebel breastworks, capturing fifty prisoners. The rebels fled, with slight loss. During the night the enemy evacuated and are supposed to be retreating towards Fayetteville.

The New York Herald has the following dispatch dated Nashville, 5th: Wounded officers who arrived from the front say that Murfreesboro is certainly in our hands. The rebels have retreated to Tallahoma. Gen. Stanley is pursuing the rebel rear guard.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.

Horse.—Mr. Noel, of Missouri, from the select committee on emancipation, reported a bill to aid Missouri in securing the abolition of slavery therein. It provides for the issue of millions of dollars in thirty years bonds, payable to local owners, the Government pledging itself to the redemption and colonization of the freed men.

Mr. Vallandigham objected to the consideration of the bill for reasons stated, but the Speaker overruled. He made his decision in accordance with that heretofore applied to the French spoliation bill.

Mr. Clemens, of Tennessee, was not aware that this bill would be reported, and as a member of the Special Committee on Emancipation he objected to it. Last session it was proposed to appropriate $180,000,000 to aid in the abolition of slavery in Kentucky, Western Virginia, Maryland, Missouri, and Delaware; that was on a national basis, whereas this bill was on a sectional character, referring as it did to only one State.

Mr. Wickliffe, of Kentucky, had seen it stated in the public prints that some time after the issuing of the proclamation of Emancipation had been received by the President from intelligent, whole-souled Union men, which satisfied him that a great and powerful change had taken place in Kentucky in favor of this miserable abolition scheme. He felt it to be his duty and privilege to state on this floor, in the face of heaven, in the presence of Congress, and in the hearing of the nation, that there was not one man in three hundred in Kentucky who was in favor of the proclamation. He said this again and again: "whether I be fraud, purchase or otherwise."

Mr. Noel said the people of Missouri had said they would abolish it. In reply to Mr. Clemens, he remarked that the people of Tennessee had no regular State government, and hence, could not act upon and accept such a proposition. It was expecting too much to hang all the other border States upon this bill. Commence the work with Missouri, and when the proper time shall arrive, the benefits might be extended to other States.

Mr. Holman moved to lay the bill on the table. Disagreed to by 42 to 73.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE AGENCY.
One door East of Davenport's Bookstore, on Third Street.
The "FLORENCE" SEWING MACHINES make such DIFFERENT stitches on one and the same machine. They make the best of all, the KNOX and DUNBAR, all of which make the same alike on both sides of the fabric. Either or all can be produced with the Machine in motion.
They have the REVERSIBLE FEED MOTION, which enables the operator to have the work carry either way, or to change the direction of the feed at any time, without stopping the machine. They are the LATEST SEWING MACHINES in the world, making five stitches to each revolution. They do not freeze. Their stitch is the wonder of all, because of its combined elasticity, strength and beauty.
Their motions are all positive. There are no springs to get out of order. They are so simple that the most inexperienced person can work them perfectly and with ease. They are economical, and fasten the end of seams, which, together with making a long and a short stitch, is done simply by turning a thumb screw.

M., on Wednesday, January 7th, 1863.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—Mr. C. W. Wooley, on behalf of the Trustees, petitioned the Council that all taxes on the Episcopal Mission property, accruing since 1851, be remitted. Referred to the City Attorney.

The city Treasurer reported the amount of relief furnished families of volunteers for the month of December to be $1,115. The city Treasurer made a report showing the amount of city taxes collected during the month of December to be $2,649.92.

The City Treasurer reports the amount of fines collected during the month of December to be $166.

To the Hon. the President and Common Council:

The case of Bridget C. Dwyer, the city of St.

Paul, argued in the Supreme Court at the last term, upon demurrer to the complaint, has been decided against the city, and the case remanded to the District Court with leave to the answer &c. The action is brought to recover damages awarded by commissioners appointed by the Legislature by act of 1851, and 1852, to open Fort Snelling.

The case is an important one to the city, both as it respects the amount in controversy, and the rights and liabilities of the city as defined by the said Supreme Court. Other actions have also been commenced by parties to whom like damages were awarded, and it is anticipated that the whole amount of damages awarded by said Commissioners are in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Respectfully,
S. M. Dwyer,
City Attorney.

BONDS AND ORDERS DESTROYED.—The committee of ways and means reported that they had destroyed by burning—bonds, orders, coupons, &c., to the amount of $12,133.58—which had previously been canceled.

RECEIVED MEAT.

Almon Lincoln offered a resolution instructing the market master to visit all the meat shops in the city at least twice a week, and also examine the sleighs or wagons along the street to see if any diseased meat is being offered for sale—the market master to receive one half of the fines that shall be imposed by the City Justice on a conviction, for his compensation.

APPROVED.—Morrell's efforts to supply these in need of all kinds of stationery, has its due weight. Whence these who go there and are pleased, and there can be no doubt of it.
